MATH CHALLENGE II™

ChallengeWare™

CHALLENGEWARE is an educational series of 55 titles for students from pre-school age through adult. The series brings into the home outstanding programs currently used in over 1,000 schools throughout the United States. Tested, approved and recommended by teachers, ChallengeWare offers an exceptional learning experience, and includes programs in the academic areas of Preschool Concepts, Mathematics, Grammar, Social Studies, Science, Reading, Foreign Language, Economics, Computer Programming, and Logic & Strategy.

MATH CHALLENGE II. This program in the Math Series contains three individual lessons for upper elementary grades and is designed to test your ability to calculate expressions and estimates. In the first lesson, you learn to recognize multiples of randomly selected numbers; in the second, you try to create math expressions; and in the third, you arrange given numbers in order to produce a specified result.

FAT CHANCE. In this program, the student learns to estimate and practice identifying multiples of given numbers. In a betting game, starting with 100 points, the student has ten turns to make or lose points.

CLAY PIGEONS. In this program, the student arranges numbers and operations $(+, -, \times, \div)$ to create math expressions from three given numbers. The resulting value must be as close to a given fourth number as possible $(9 \times 2 - 3 = 15)$. The computer shows the 'expert' score at the end as well as your percentage of accuracy.

MATH GOLF. In this particulary challenging and entertaining program, the student arranges randomly selected numbers and operations into math expressions in order to shoot for the ideal hole-in-one. To do so, the resulting value must equal one, or as close to one as possible. As in golf, the lowest score wins.
